

Huge Plantings Ramie Indicated By New Concern

With present ramie plant making successful progress, it is highly probable that another interested grower may come to this area and plant 7,000 a of the recently introduced plant. This new grower will grow ramie in order that the fiber might be used for the manufacture of cigarette and fine writing papers.

Just last week Louis Schweitzer, Peter J. Schweitzer, Inc., Elizabethton, N. J., was in this area closely inspecting present plantings on Conner's highway and at the Belle Glade Farm, Fla. He indicated that his cern is interested in ramie in this area because of the projected growth made by the fibre as it grows on the mucklands of the Okkeehobee region. Also, it is pointed out, that this area of better economic reasons for ramie production than many other parts of the country.

If the Schweitzer deal goes through and the interested parties find out what they want to know about ramie growing in the Klamath Region, it is also probable that a decorticating plant and a mill will be erected in this area.

To alleviate any worry about odors which might come with a pulp mill, it was pointed out

WAR ROMANCE

The boss, short of help, was urging his secretary to postpone her marriage.
"Can't you ask the young man to wait a few weeks?" he queried.
"No," she said. "I don't feel I know him that well."—Coronet.

LIKE THE OLD MAN

Junior: Say, dad, remember the story you told me about the time you were expelled from school?
Senior: Yes.
Junior: Isn't it funny how history repeats itself?—Look Around.

WITHIN LIMITS

Two astronomers were discussing the limitations of space. One said, "There is no limit to space."
"No limit to space?" exclaimed the other.
"Well, practically none."
"Oh," said the second quietly, "that's how I like you to talk—conservatively."—Pachfinder.

DOCUMENTARY KNOWLEDGE

An old negro had just paid the last installment on his little homestead. The real estate man congratulated him. "Now, Uncle Joe," he said, "I'll make you a deed to the place."
"Thank ye, sah," said the old man, "but iffen-hits jes de same t' you, I'd rather you'd give me a mortgage to de place."
"But you don't understand, Uncle Joe."

said the kindly realtor, "A deed is what you really want."

"Well," said the old man hesitantly, "all I knows is dat I owned me a farm one time befo'. I had de deed and de bank had de mortgage. An' first I knowed, de bank done got de farm."—Hendry County News.

MARRIED IN HASTE

In the bustling crowd which thronged the railroad station, a flamboyant girl in a bridal veil was waving to a corporal on the rear platform of an outgoing train. Suddenly her face registered panic. "Darling," she shrieked, "I forgot to tell you. What is our last name?"—Montreal Daily Herald.

OBLIGING THE PARSON

A parson still on the under side of 40 was driving home from an outlying hamlet when he overtook a young woman. He recognized her as the maid of all work at a farm which he would pass, so he pulled up and offered her a lift. Mary gladly accepted his offer and they chatted pleasantly all the way to the farm gate.
"Thank you, sir," she said as she got down.
"Don't mention it, Mary. Don't mention it," he told her politely.
"No I won't," Mary obligingly assured him.—Glades County Democrat.

ON PURPOSE

Applying for a life insurance policy, the Texas cowboy had just assured the examiner that he hadn't met with any accidents in the past two years.
"Nothing serious has happened to you recently, then?" queried the insurance man.
"Well," began the cowboy, "my horse kicked me last fall and caved in two ribs, and a rattlesnake bit me on the ankle this summer."
"Don't you call those accidents?" cried the examiner angrily.
"Accidents, heck?" returned the Texas. "They did it on purpose."—Coronet.

LI Pauline Ferris, of New Smyrna Beach, was the first American girl to be married on German soil during World War II. She became the bride of Chief Warrant Officer Charles M. Baker of Aurora, Colo., last week, the marriage taking place at Regensburg, Germany, to the accompaniment of a heavy artillery barrage.

TOO LATE TO CLASSIFY

By Russell Kay

- A is for ADJUTANT, a brass-hat's wet nurse. The chief keeps him handy for someone to curse.
B is for BUGLER, the dangled boy's bum. Who wakes us all up before daylight has come.
C is for CORPORAL, with stripes on his sleeve. A guy to sound off to when you have a peeve.
D is for DOUGHERTY, a private, no less. No rating, no chevrons—a helluva mess.
E is for EASE, which we seldom are at. A guy in the Army is never like that.
F is for FURLOUGH, that's dangled hard to get. Been in service a year and ain't had one yet.
G is for GENERAL, attention, you bums. Heads up and chests out when that baby comes.
H is for HONOR and Glory and Fame. The cheesecake for selling the old Army game.
I is for INSPECTION that's something to dread. For a guy who is slouchy and don't use his head.
J is for JEEP, a mechanical brone. Hang on, you poor cluck, or you'll land on your konk.
K is for KITCHEN and dear old KP. Where you mop and you scrub 'til you get house-maid's knee.
L is for LINE, where you just stand and wait. It's "Get back," "Wait your turn," from early 'til late.
M is for MAJOR and you'd better salute. Or you'll land in the guard house, you simple galoot.
N is for "NUTS," which expresses so well. How you feel when a sergeant's giving you hell.
O is for ORDERS, that are issued each day. If you fail to heed them, the devil's to pay.
P is for PRIVATE, either plain or FC. But they make the Army, if you're asking me.
Q is for QUARTER, we're taught not to give. If we did on the pay we get, how could we live?
R is for RATIONS, the feed-bag or chow. We gripe at the grub, but we eat it, and how!
S is for SERGEANT, who barks out commands. If he had his way, we'd all walk on our hands.
T is for TACTICS, the Master-minds plan. Like a 60 mile hike, full pack for each man.
U is for UNIFORM, the old G. I. garb. If you find one to fit you, I mean, you're a darb.
V is for VETERAN, a grizzled old coot. Whose job is to teach the young rookies to shoot.
W is for WACS, who've invaded our ranks. Those sweet little, neat little, feminine Yanks.
X is for EXCHANGE, better known as PX. The guys who are running 'em, slick out their necks.
Y is for YARDBIRD, who's sweating it out. As he picks up the rubbish left scattered about.
Z is for Zella, Zorina or Zoe. The nifties we've met at the old U. S. O.

SCHOOL ENROLLMENT SHOWS DECREASE

The speed with which the war has sent child employment figures up and school enrollment figures down is viewed with alarm by the National Child Labor Committee. A recent report of the committee shows high school enrollment has dropped off by over a million students and that the number of children employed between the ages of 14-17 has increased by half a million.

Lady Nettleton's "Red" Loafers

Recently the government allowed the women's shoe manufacturers to buy some colored hides. Lady Nettleton could get only enough for a few hundred pair. We wired for the entire first purchase.

They agreed to let us have them all on condition that we would not publicize through the daily papers that would get Nettleton in trouble with their other resort accounts.

So, Ladies of the Glades, this announcement is to you. These new season creations are here now!

We will not run any ads in West Palm Beach papers. Even the Ladies' Shoe Department does not know Mr. Anthony is telling this story in the Glades.

The very fine grade leather in these "Red" Loafers is something to rave about.

See them while we have all sizes.
